NOVA Handbell Festival

On Friday and Saturday, November 17-18, CUMC will host the Northern Virginia Handbell Festival. Begun in the early 1990's the NOVA Festival attracts anywhere from 8 - 16 handbell choirs from the Northern Virginia area and beyond.

The choirs prepare five selections to ring at the weekend festival where this year they will be led by guest clinician, Jason Krug, from Indianapolis, IN. The weekend ends with a free concert on Saturday at 2:30 in the ROC. A highlight of this year's festival will be the premier of "Let the Word Go Forth," composed especially for this year's festival participants by Mr. Krug. All are invited to this enjoyable closing event.

2017 Annual Music Ministry Cookie Sale

Week of Nov. 13 - Ten taste-tested recipes will be available at church for pickup
Sunday, December 10 - Cookies on sale in the Fellowship Hall between services
Saturday, December 9 - 11:30 am Cookie packing in Fellowship Hall

- *Volunteers are asked to prepare 10 dozen cookies, or as many as you are able.
- *We always sell as many cookies as are baked!
- *One third of the profits will be donated to a CUMC-supported mission.
- *The remainder support Music Ministry expenses not covered by the budget. Past profits have been used to help fund the purchase of pianos, timpani, choir robes, new tables for the handbell room, and most recently, new bass choirchimes.

We invite your participation in this ministry-wide event.
